Far beyond the future, as the world goes through many changes, students will have become more technogical with so-ciety.

Throughout the years of school we've experienced a vast amount of innovations introduced to us each day.

Our learning experience is never ending and as we leave school the future awaits for your knowl-edge and ability to create many more changes in this world.

required credits cut to promote student interest in voc-ed courses

With the changing of academic credits much more emphasis was put on vocational education. Students were able to select many courses that would prepare for their future. A high enrollment in agri-business courses required the hiring of a new teacher, Miss Murphy. Mr. D. Liebelt was pleased with the many students interested in ag. The business courses teachers worked with various area businesses to help train students through allowing them first-hand knowledge of their chosen careers. Many Industrial Arts and home economic courses allowed students to be very creative. From the planning stages to the final product, student received many satisfactions.

academics in science,
math, social studies work

Students become aware of the past and the future in various history, math, and the science courses. Each allowed for the development of the student in allowing them to choose and pursue their various interests. Prepare for the future from the past became true as students enrolled in the many courses. The history of the United States involved sophomores and juniors. In preparing the student for the look of life, one would enroll in the psychology and sociology courses.

Math Department: B. West, P. Sink, J. Brecht, N. Smits, R. Hostetler, W. MacNeil.

Social Studies Department: Row 1- E. Pooock, A. Verheyden, J. Bowen, J. Nigl, R. Van Effen, Row 2-D. Falk, L. Smith, W. Eau Claire, R. Delforge, R. Lettman.

The preparation for tomorrow also played a roll in the various science courses. The preparation for college moved many students to the decision of enrolling in the various courses. From test tubes to the note taking allowed for the many preparations. Even though the big push for vocational education in high schools is in, many students felt that science was a necessity for the future.

modern school studies include broad spectrum of basics-choices

From the various English courses to the many foreign language courses, students developed many good writing, speaking and expressing abilities. The Special Education department develops a good rapport with their many students. Much work went into each day of teaching to allow the student to achieve a vast amount of knowledge or growth.

The creative ability came through from students as the Art and Music departments taught many courses. Painting, sculpturing, batikes, and other projects let students' imaginations be as original as possible. Preparing for concerts and self-betterment, teachers from the Music department worked with the many students that were enrolled. To break up the monotony of the day to day courses, the Physical Education department, conceded with various programs, to plan many muscle working and enjoyable classes.

mr hinkley leaves happy vibes in east-community

Since 1958, Mr. Norman Hinkley has created class-A bands which have won awards year after year. Retiring this year, Mr. Hinkley can look back at his many accomplishments. Mr. Hinkley came to East from Portage. At that time, 28 students were enrolled in band. New challenges were needed for effective instruction. After years of work, he saw many changes. Band uniforms were bought, a jazz band was formed, and an exchange program with other schools developed. The band performed at the Packer games four times, not to mention the numerous appearances at Red Devil games.

Mr. Hinkley has been involved in community activities. He played in many area bands. Undoubetly, however, Mr. Hinkley's most rewarding service has been working for 15 years with the Cerebral Palsey Telethon.

The students, faculty and staff of East wish you, Mr. Hinkley, well. We will not say goodbye, but rather, stop in and see us when you have time.

You will be remembered for your ability to meet challenges. You will be remembered for building bands through building student confidence and dignity. You will be remembered individually by those students whom you helped privately. You will be remembered for your cheerfulness, your ready wit, and your stories for every occasion. Mr. Hinkley, you will be remembered for being Mr. Hinkley.

YOU AND I

"You and I" created many good memories for the spring prom. The theme song, originally sung by Stevie Wonder, created a beautiful setting for everyone to enjoy.

The junior class participation was the key to making the prom a success. Many juniors worked on elections, decorations, and many last minute preparations.

Jim Arts and Jill Mocarski reigned as king and queen. Other court members included Lisa Koller, Stuart Rose, Sandy VanStraten, Tom Sedlacek, Julie Limberg, Paul Dockery, Jodi Strachen, Mark Van Boxel, Paula Henkelmann, Tom Davies, Nancy Kokal, and Jerry Westcott

"Goodbye, My Fancy" centered around a liberal Congressperson, Agatha Reed, who returned to her old school to be awarded an honorary degree. Since her wartime experiences in Europe, she had devoted herself to the task of acquainting people with the actual horrors of war. That is why she brought a documentary movie with her to be shown to the fresh young graduate students.

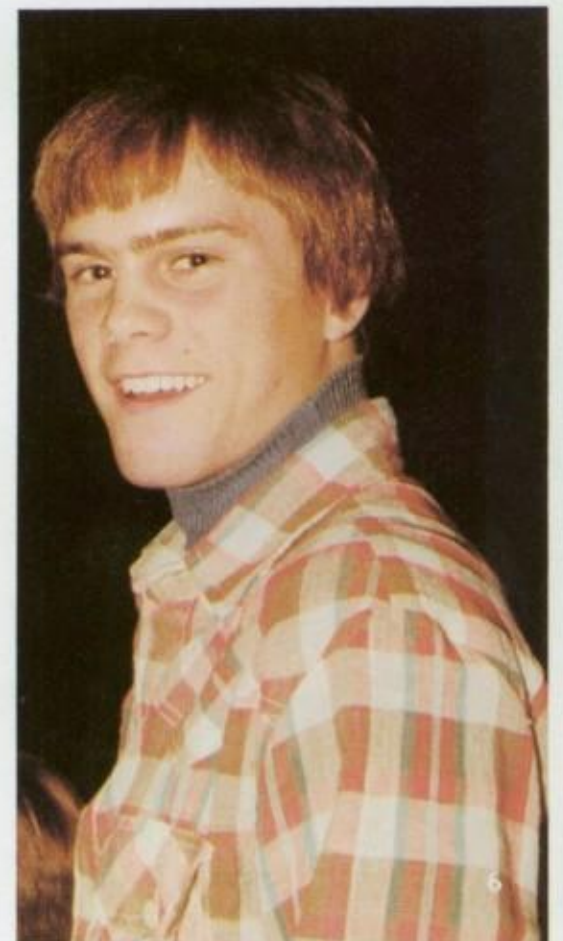

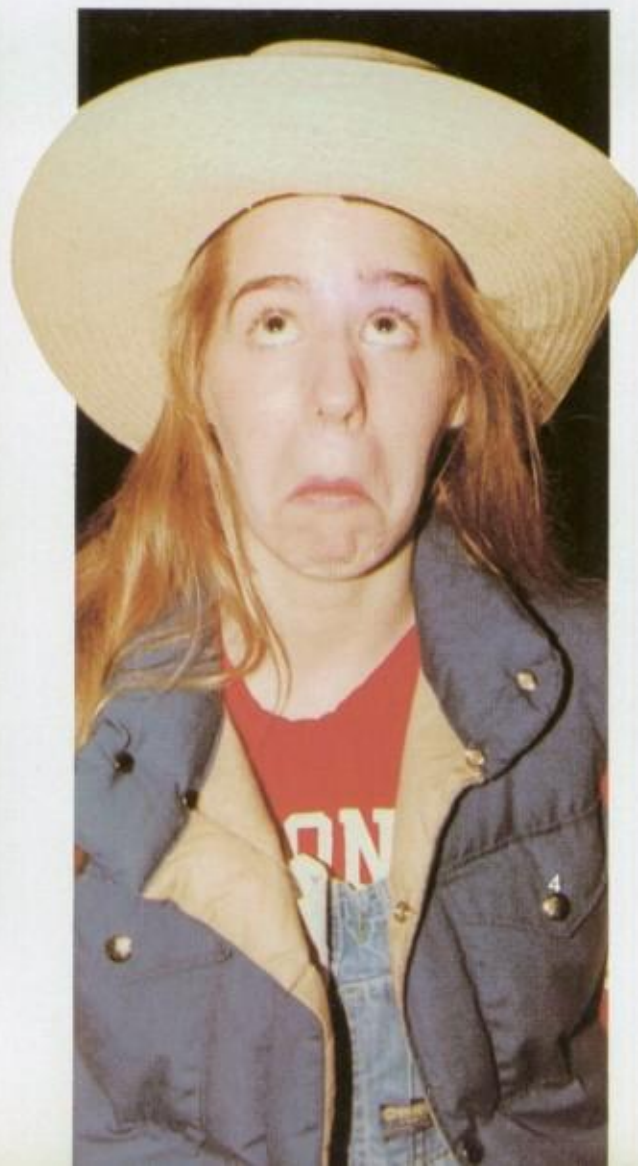

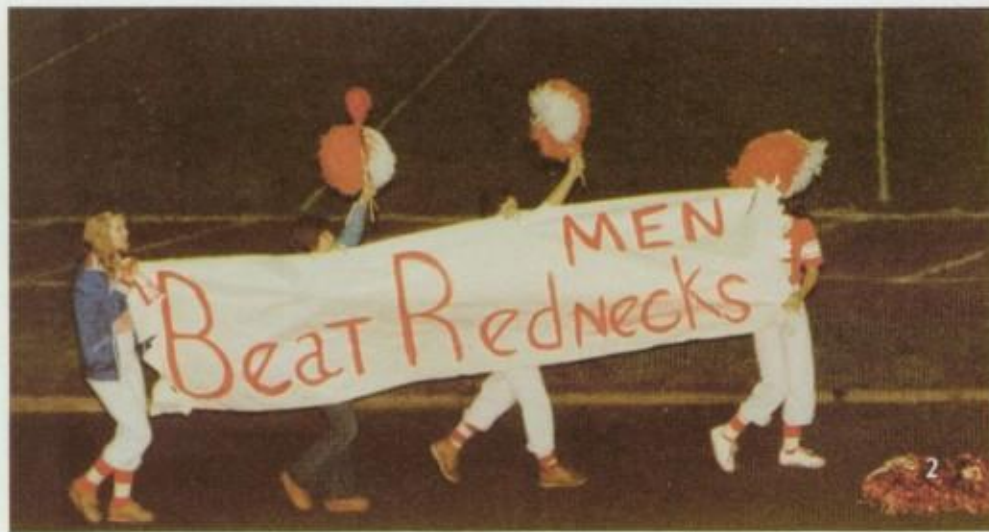

The movie is considered harsh and improper by the trustees, however, so, Ms. Reed has a fight on her hands. The conflict exposes the president of the college as a spineless and irresolute figure, instead of the outspoken professor with whom Ms. Reed thought she had been in love with for so many years.

The disenchantment drove her into the arms of a wartime acquaintance who, as a Life photographer, has come to cover the event. And from there on it was just one big happy ending.

The play was presented March 31 and April 1.

1. Shelly Parmentier explains to the students that the film Agatha Reed has is harsh and improper. 2. Jeanne Rademacher argues with Laurie Cleavenger on whether the film should be shown. 3. Ann Hastreiter discusses the board of trustees' president with Laurie Cleavenger. Opposite page-1. On November 10 and 11 the play "Arsenic and Old Lace" was presented. The play was about two little old ladies with a very odd hobby. Abby and Martha Brewster feel that if gentlemen are old and lonely they would rather be dead. The two old ladies own a big house and rent out one of the rooms. When old men come to see about renting a room and mention they are lonely, the old ladies "help" them so they won't be lonely anymore. There are many complications involved with the story. Abby and Martha have a new-phew, Mortimer, who finds out what is going on. Then another long lost nephew, a look-alike to Boris Karloff, comes home. He isn't very normal. He killed 12 people. More people become involved in the action that adds to the excitement.

1. Jennifer Bracker and Kathy Kruse discuss the next plan to put old me out of misery. 2. Plans for the next victim are halted as information of the conspiracy leaks out.

epsilon theta sigma recognizes best journalists

President Betsy Bartelt prepares for the annual Publications Banquet.

Epsilon Theta Sigma is not anything foreign to the school. It is the official name of the East High chapter of Quill and Scroll.

Every year Quill and Scroll initiates new members into the club. Requirements for membership in the club include outstanding work on an East High publication staff for an entire year, rank in the upper third of the class, and recommendation by one of the publication advisors.

Quill and Scroll officers this year were Betsy Bartelt, president; Jean Fischer, vice president; and Jane Adams, secretary-treasurer.

Joan Adams once again volunteers to sell at a bake sale for Quill and Scroll fund raising project.

Mr. Kohler directs another song for the orchestra.

A new teacher, Mr. John Kohler, was welcomed to East High this year to direct the orchestra. A sense of accomplishment was felt by many of the members in their attempt to become more musically proficient.

This year, the orchestra spent many hours in preparation for their winter and spring concerts. In addition, the group appeared with the band and chorus at the All-city concert at the arena. A number of students also participated in the Solo and Ensemble contests.

"Being a member of the orchestra increases my skills and my appreciation of all kinds of music ranging from classical to rock," commented Robert Morrison.

three developing chorus groups look to 78-79

Chorus consists of three groups: Spartans, Chorale, and East Singers. Students are placed in these groups according to their abilities. Chorus presented another variety show in April because of its success last year. All three choruses have shown excellent growth this year. Mr. Vanderbloomen was especially pleased that so many boys took chorus.

East Singers for 77-78 have been an excellent group, and I am looking forward to next season's East Singer group. They show much promise, as well as Chorale. "A big thanks to all my singers," commented Mr. Vanderbloomen.

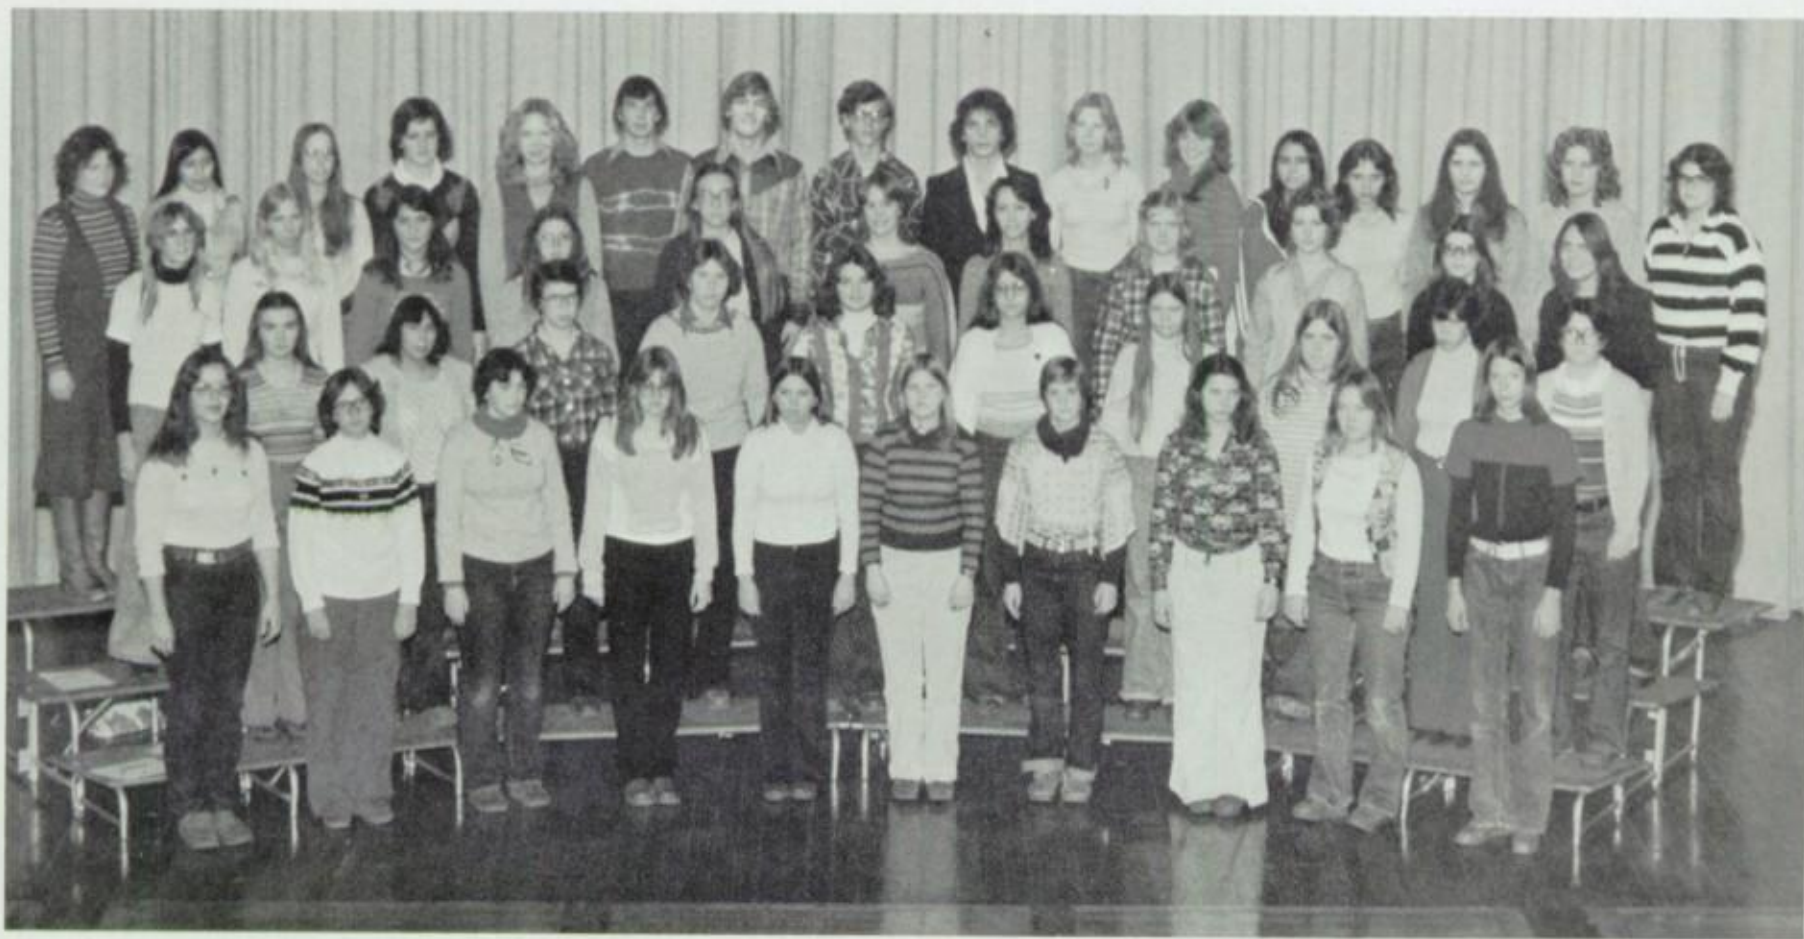

The Chorale Group practices a new song to add to their next concert.

"Music to your ears" is the only way of describing this year's band. Under the expert direction of Mr. Hinkley, the band was really great. The band added spirit and enthusiasm to both our football and basketball games by doing such things as playing polkas and the catchy tune from the "Gong Show." They did a good job of getting the fans' spirit up.

The band held their annual citrus sale to raise money for their spring trip and performed in both a midwinter and spring concerts.

We have good reason to believe that the East High band is the best band around!

Medical Career Association (MCA) is a club that teaches students about possible medical careers they may want to go into after graduation. They also raise money for scholarships through bake sales and candy sales. The MCA officers for this year were Paul Conrad (president), Mary Bashe (co-president), Janice Nitka (secretary-treasurer).

The Pep Club was the people behind the scenes, giving everything they had, to add to the school spirit this year. They raised money through candy sales to sponsor buses for the out of town games. They also painted posters for the upcoming events and put them up around school. One Pep Club member commented, "Pep Club is really a good time. It was fun helping fire up everybody."

"Without student assistants, the library would be like a car without wheels," explained Miss Hannon. The members of the staff have many abilities- artistic, clerical "housekeeping"- that keep things going smoothly.

Forty-eight individuals are ideally needed each day to staff each area: the periodical room, the check-out desks, the work-room, where library materials are processed or renewed. Working effectively in the library could lead to a part-time job now or a full-time job later.

This year's scholarship will be given in the name of Mr. Chris Swoboda, to the outstanding staff member who plans to continue his or her education.

German Club is one of the largest foreign language clubs in the school. This tells something about the club itself. The members of the German Club got involved in many activities this year such as bake sales and candy sales. With these activities they were able to attend the Folk Fair and the Lorelei. Because of such activities, students continue to join the German Club each year.

Hola! Que Tall

The Green Bay East Spanish Club was very active this year. Some of their activities were selling M&M's and having bake sales. This year the Spanish Club supported an orphan with the money they raised from their activities. They also attended the Folk Fair in Milwaukee.

77-78 was a good year for the French Club. For the size of the group they did extremely well. They carried out activities such as bake sales and candy sales. In the fall they raked lawns. With this money, along with the other foreign language clubs, members attended the Folk Fair in Milwaukee, which was a great success.

Projects this year for the Key Club included the March of Dimes Haunted House, a Christmas party for the children at Bellin Hospital, and fund raising efforts for the support of the CROP organization.

One member commented, "The Key Club is designed for the school and community benefit, rather than personal rewards."

Plans are being made to send club delegates to the International Kiwanis Convention in Miami, Florida.

active mcphail club raises scholarship money

One of the most active clubs at East High is the McPhail club. The hard working members of the club sold candy, pens and pencils, and Christmas cards, among other things. council relates to students and administration

Mr. Vollrath, the advisor for Student Council, helps Jill Charneski with one of her new Student Council projects.

Student Council: a voice that acts between students and administration.

Student Council clearly carried out the above definition this year. Through not backing the walkout at school (because of the problems at Homecoming), Student Council members showed that they were trying to understand both the administrations' and the students' point of view.

Student Council also attempted to show their concerns for the students' wants and needs by setting up committees to handle them. Types of committees ranged from one to handle an open lunch program to setting up a marquee board.

Student Council was involved in many other activities this year and accomplished a lot of what they set out to do.

When asked what he thought of the Student Council, the advisor, Mr. Vollrath, said, "Things taught in schools and colleges are not an education, but a means to an education! It takes a little extra something to be a Student Council member, but it can be a real learning and growing experience! Your destiny lies in yourself."

Leadership and scholarship are the keys of the National Honor Society (NHS). Each year in the spring, qualified juniors and seniors are elected into the NHS.

This year the NHS raised money in numerous ways. Baked goods and caramel apples were sold. Candy canes were sold over the Christmas holidays. Slave day was a big success. Money was raised for teachers appreciation day. For this and other ways, money was raised for scholarships.

New activities were hopefully to be put in action- a time capsule, selling T-shirts, just to mention a few! This has proved to be a good year!

"I'm really glad I was accepted in NHS this year, and I feel I really gained a lot through it," says Ann Watzka.

z ers relate projects to school-community

Z-Club allows girls to relate their service and dedication to their surrounding life. All year long the members served their school and community. Their projects included filling Halloween bags with candy for hospitalized children. The girls also held monthly bake sales and sold caramel apples. They also went caroling to the nearby hospitals and nursing homes for the Christmas holidays. The girls also helped Santa with his letter answering.

Have you ever wondered how the yearbook gets published every year? It's only through the dedication and hard work of the yearbook staff.

Throughout the year the staff put in innumerable hours photographing clubs, organizing the writing of copy, and laying out pages. Much effort goes into publishing a yearbook. The staff of '78 Echoes has given the project their best, to make sure no one forgets that '78 was a great year.

For its student readers, it not only tells the activities of the school, but it also brings information about the community, including career challenges.

For the paper's staff, the "Hi-Light" gives opportunities to improve writing skills, meet interesting people, and develop business abilities.

Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA), is an educational club which entitles its members to get acquainted with the business world of marketing and distribution.

DECA projects included the selling of candy bars, pizzas, and calendars.

Attending regionals, state, and national competition, permitted members to study and achieve recognition that they may not have received otherwise.

The Green Bay East DECA chapter was very fortunate to have a state officer, Cheryl VanRens.

This year DECA was very involved with the community. Some of the activities they participated in were the Cerebral Palsy Telethon, Bowlathons, and helping with the Muscular Dystrophy program.

The 1977-78 year was a very successful period for the East High Chapter of the Future Farmers of America (FFA). In November of this year, six delegates from the East High FFA Chapter attended the 50th Anniversary National FFA Convention in Kansas City. Dann May received the American Degree, while the entire chapter received Gold Emblems in safety and national chapter contests along with a Silver Emblem in Building Our American Communities (B.O.A.C.). Another member of FFA, James VanEss, won the National Agricultural Processing Award and $275. The advisor of FFA, Mr. Leibelt, is not to be left out as he was presented with the Honorary American Degree, the highest award that an advisor can receive.

The FFA was also involved in many local projects this year. For example, they participated in the Safety Sand Project in which sand was made available to local residents for use in the slippery winter weather.

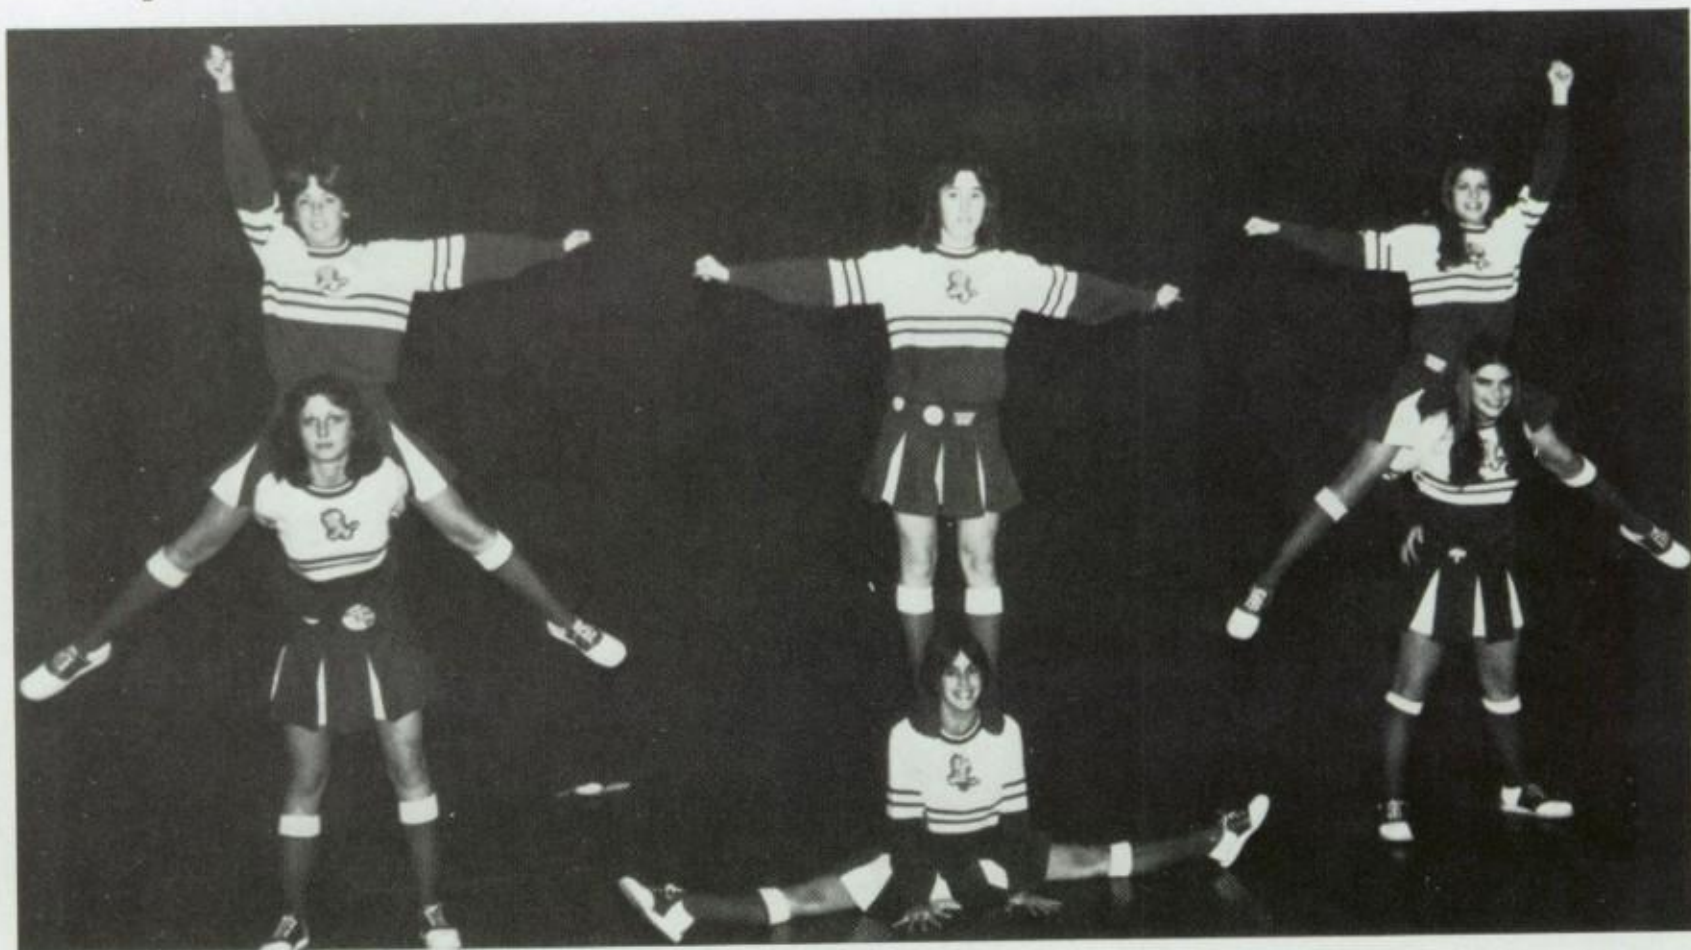

So this year FFA proved to be both fun and fulfilling.

When asked why she joined FFA, Donna Checkouras replied, "Originally, I didn't know anything about FFA. I only knew I was interested in the course. I joined mainly for the projects, the chance to travel, and to learn exactly what it was about. Well, now that I've found out, I'm really glad I joined — I've learned a lot and met a lot of new people from all over."

R-O-W-D-I-E sums up the East High Spirit this year and we have the 1977-78 cheerleaders to thank for it. Through their hard work, they have taken East High spirit higher than it ever had been before. There were a number of different cheerleaders during the year because of the new rule that says no cheerleader can be involved in another sport. This rule gave more girls the opportunity to cheer during the year. Varsity cheerleader, Tracy Bernard, commented, "Our school spirit seems to have improved since last year. The student body is more interested in what's going on."

Miss Whiting also seems to think the spirit at the games is high, and she said, "The girls are doing a real good job."

Strong defense played an important role in the varsity football team's successful season. East had one of the best defensive units in the Conference. The unit held their combined opponents to a miserly 48 points. The strength of the defense was perhaps brought out best in the Preble game. In holding the Hornets scoreless, the Red Devils stopped Preble on two goal-line stands.

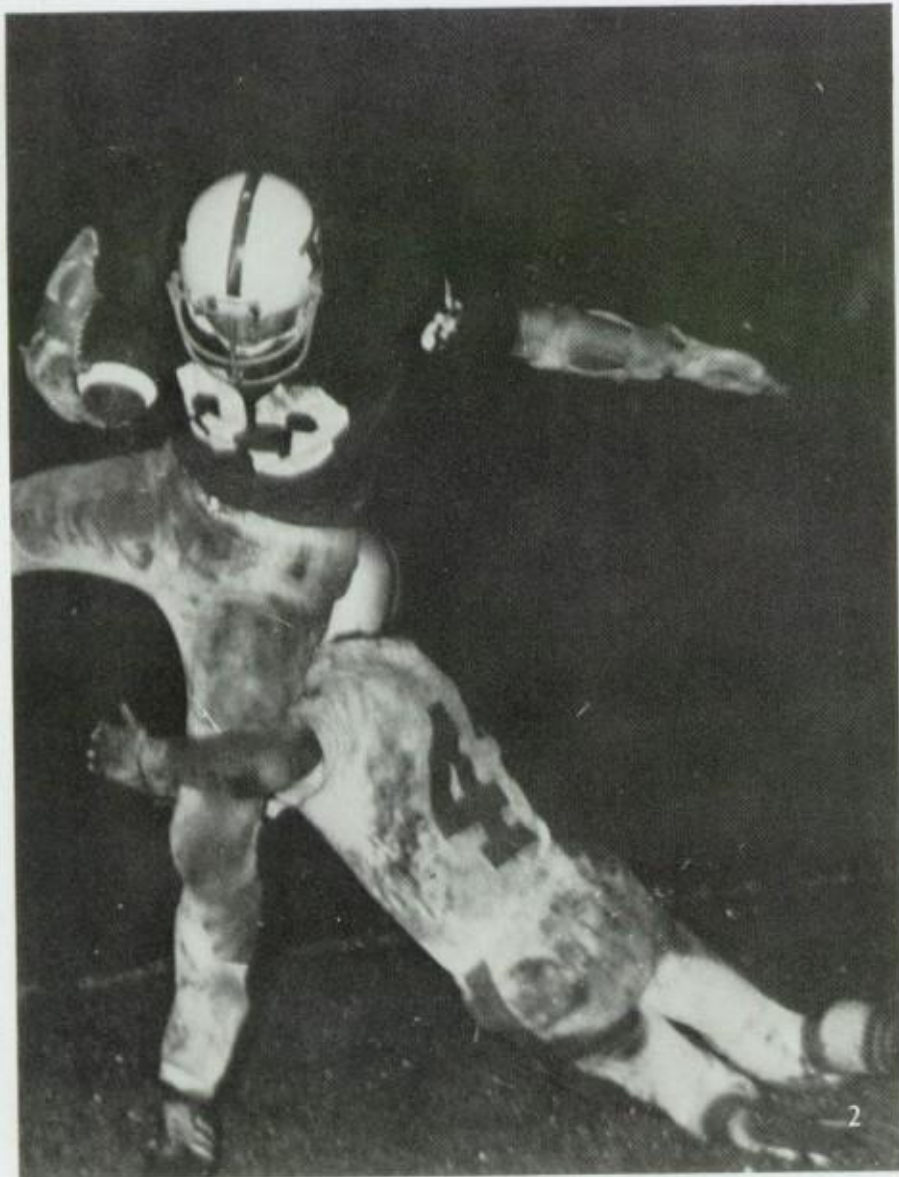

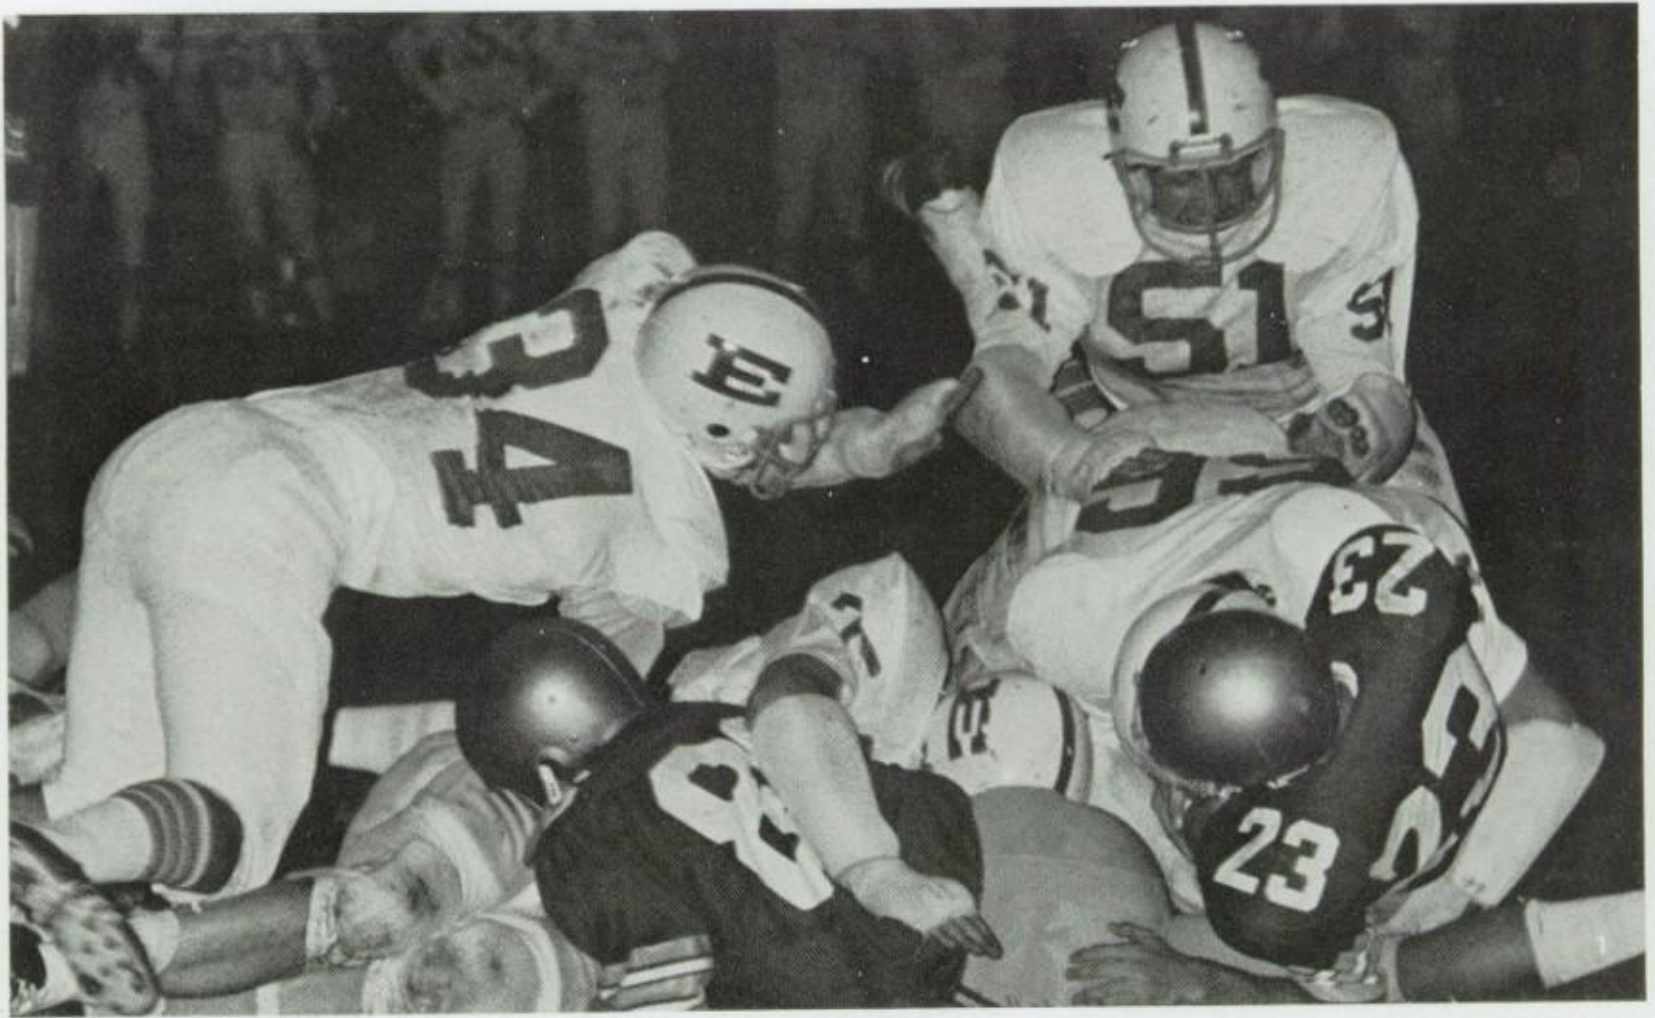

Big plays were a key to the offense's success. The offense showed its explosiveness best in the West game. Three big plays, a long run by Joe Siudzinski, a long pass to Kevin Kirchman (II), and a long run by Jamie Marique (II) illustrate the point. Season-wise, East was led by the hard running of Joe Siudzinski and Mark Van Boxel and the passing of Rick Basten. A high mark was East's beating Manitowoc 12 to 7 at the homecoming game. The team played well on defense and recovered a key fumble on the Ship's ten yard line in the fourth quarter. The offense then went in for a touchdown that proved to be the winning points.

The Red Devils spirited squad proved to the fans that they were a great team. The hundreds of spectators at each game also proved to the players that they had spirited fans. With talented players and coaches, the varsity had a strong season. They were a solid unit and showed that they were real champions.

Joe Siudzinski manages to escape defensive players as he goes in to score.

Mistakes victimized the JV football team off and on during much of the season. Penalties and fumbles accounted for losses to Manitowoc, Preble and Fond du Lac. When mistakes were eliminated, the team rolled to victory.

The backbone of the team, the defense, recovered eighteen fumbles, intercepted ten passes, blocked three punts and allowed less than one touchdown per game. Time and again, after a mistake by the offense, the defense would shut down the opponent.

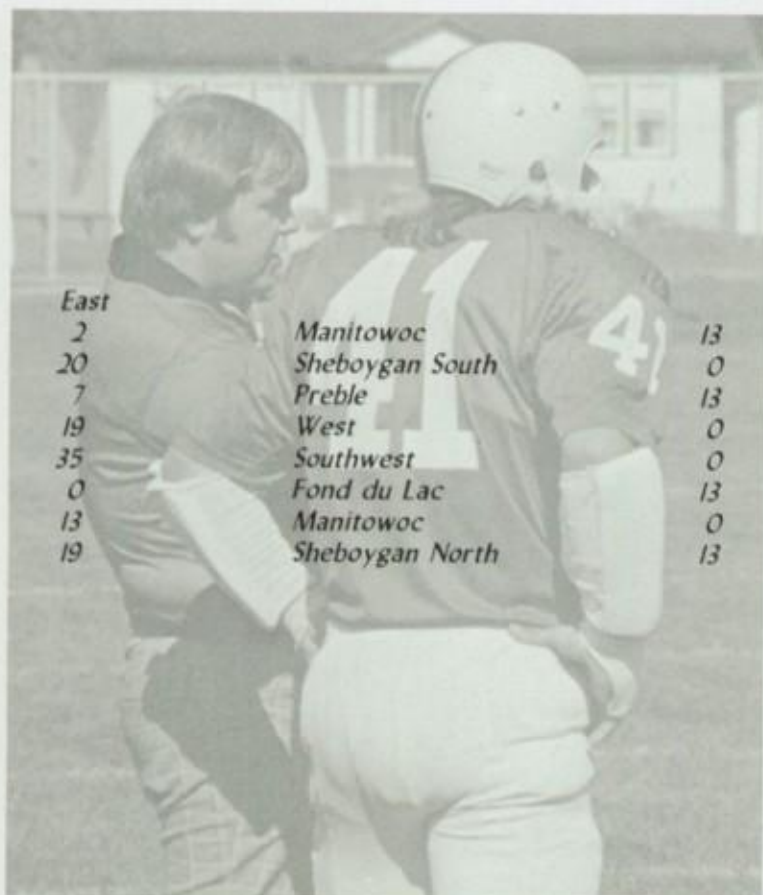

The offense developed slower than the defense. However, by the third game it had jelled. By the end of the season it compiled a set of impressive statistics; an average of two touchdowns per game, 3.8 yards rushing per carry and 12 yards per pass completion.

"The JV football players are a great group of young athletes who will be heard from in 1978 and 1979," predicted Coach Benson.

"The cross country team had one of its best seasons in years," said Coach Jim Drews. The Squad consisted of six seniors, thirteen juniors, six sophomores and one freshman. Of the twenty-six runners, thirteen were on last year's team, including two girls.

This year, Coach Drews started a practice program which consisted of one-half and three-quarter mile intervals, along with a two-minute "gut run," and topped off by a mile cool-down run. This program helped varsity and junior varsity squads compile impressive records.

One of the most impressive wins was the varsity's first place finish in the Brown County Invitational. East didn't have any one runner who could have been considered as a consistently top finisher. Jim Arts (12) and Mark Lytie (12) usually were the top two runners for the Red Devils in most of their meets. However, the team had a knack of finishing in a cluster near the top to win.

spikers continue to build with coach jeager

The girls varsity volleyball team started the season by winning its first non-conference game against De Pere. As in all sports competition, the season was rough for a new team of girls and they lost their first two matches against Sheboygan and Preble. The girls did an excellent job at the Luxemburg-Casco tournament, in late September, to reign as second-place champions. The victory, however, was short lived and the team suffered a few injuries. They lost their following matches to Green Bay West 2-1, Green Bay Southwest 3-0, Sturgeon Bay 3-0, Fond du Lac 3-0, Manitowoc 3-0 and Algoma 2-1.

"The JV girls team has come a long way in playing ability since the beginning of the season, winning three matches against De Pere, Bayport, and Manitowoc," said Coach Jeager. Other matches were close, but the JV's lost the matches to Sheboygan 3-0, Preble 2-1, West 3-0, Southwest 3-0, Sturgeon Bay 2-1, Fond du Lac 3-0, Sheboygan North 2-1 and Algoma 2-1. The JV's had a fairly successful season and should have strong potential next year.

The boys tennis team had an average spring tennis season. Coached by Mr. Ronald Lettman, the team finished with four wins and eight losses. That record, however, is misleading because East played well in their individual matches.

The team was led by Scott Blakesley, Dan Vandavelde, Dick Utic, (seniors last year) and Pete Rosman. In the city meet, East tied for 2nd and in the conference meet they finished 7th.

girls continue quality drives on court

Diane Wanek and Carolyn Stodola confer briefly before a tennis match.

The success of the girls tennis team was not with the wins this season. Coach Whiting's racque-teers finished a season that was a most valuable experience for each of the girls as they were developing into champions. The dedication, discipline, determination, and attitude of all members was by far a more productive year than the matches won.

The team was very ambitious and every member did improve. "It was great to work with so many fine athletes that would try and try, but never give up," said Miss Whiting. Many individual matches were disappointing for the team as the opponents would win the tie-breakers. "The team continued to play challenging tennis and possessed the fine qualities of true champions," observed Coach Whiting.

The cinder girls had a very succesful season. Members on the team were young and had little experience, but they weren't prevented from setting new school records. It was a great challenge to all the girls to improve in their own events. They had to realize that many hours of practice was necessary as they were working toward championship performance. One of the big highlights of the season was the Brown County Indoor Track meet for girls and boys, and a first of its kind. The fine performance by the team gave them a second place finish. The track team had many impressive and outstanding performances this year.

The boys track team had a good season. Depth and experience sent nine boys to State. Paul Staddler, Chris Koehn, Andre Moss, seniors last year, Jim Arts, Doug Hanley, Kevin Kirchman were a few of the many stand-outs. Mr. Don Gehrman, Mr. Jim Drews and Mr. Gary Lorfeld were the coaches.

Teamwork played an important role in all of the team meets. The support for a fellow athlete helped bring out the best in each individual member. In turn, the group developed into a solid unit and caused problems for the other teams. At the end of the season, the boys that went to State represented a small part of a fine track team.

A more competitive team took to the court for the boys varsity basketball team. The squad showed a great amount of talent throughout the season. The fans saw an enthusiastic, well-disciplined, well-coached team win many hard-fought games.

Although team members were smaller than their opponents men, the Red Devils used speed to their advantage. They had a running offense and a press that caused opponents to falter and eventually lose to them. Generally, equal talent was spread throughout the squad. This circumstance made mass substitution possible, thus giving the starters frequent rests. In turn, East was able to keep fresh players in while opponent players tired.

Ed Pooch, in his second year as coach, helped the team to a successful season. With his knowledge of the game, Coach Pooch has made East into a strong competitor. The Red Devils always caused opponents problems in each game.

"Sports holds a mirror to a woman's life. All that she can know of joy, of sadness, finds its counterpart in sports." L. E. Price.

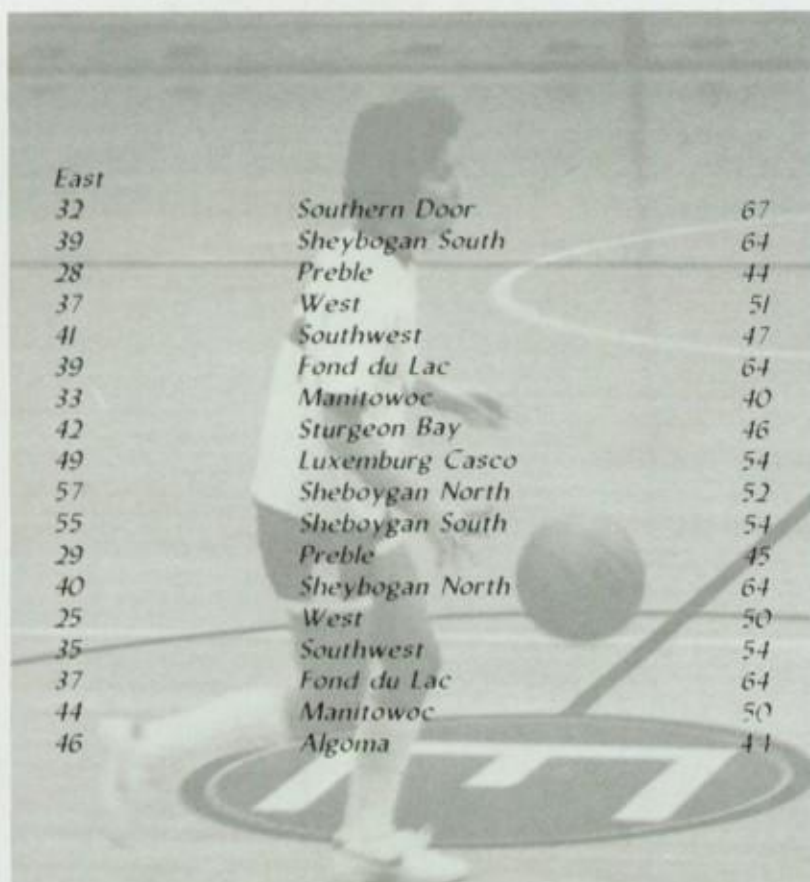

"The desire, determination and doggedness demonstrated by the girls varsity team this season cannot be reflected in final conference standings-nor can statistics define the comradeship and lasting bonds between persons striving toward the common goal. This is what sports is all about." commented Coach Schultz. The girls provided excitement for their fans throughout the course of the basketball season. They had tough opponents each game, but the girls always fought on until the final buzzer sounded. With this team, games were never decided until the end.

The future looks bright for the girls basketball team. Eight out of the thirteen players will be returning next year. The biggest plus for next year is that this year's team will provide the experience and talent needed for the year ahead.

"We had a lot of talented ballplayers and a lot of hungry ballplayers," Coach Bruce West said of his team. This statement best described the boys j. v. basketball squad. The Red Devils won their opening game against Premontre in a close match 51 to 50.

With balanced scoring among the individual players, the team won two of its first five games. One of those losses, however, was in overtime. The record doesn't really tell how good the team was.

A great amount of spirit was displayed on the court. When they were out there, the team handled themselves in a professional manner. As representatives of East, the J.V.'S can hold their heads high for the way they played.

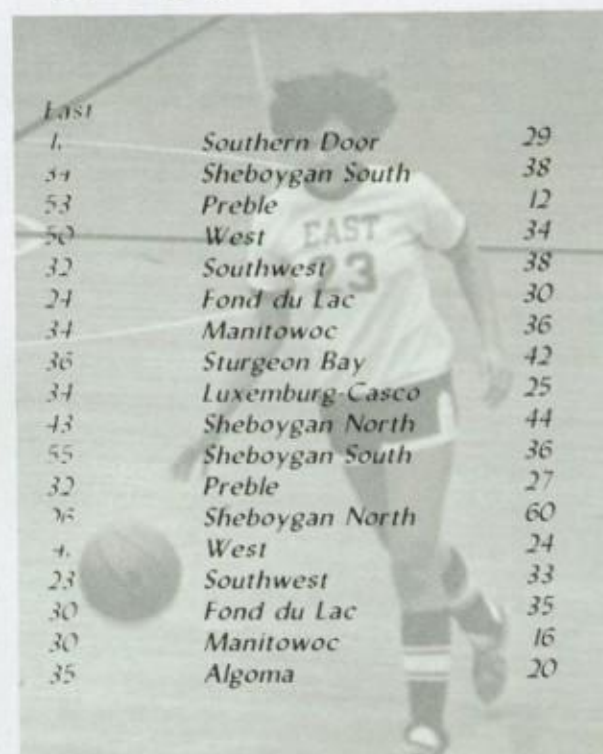

competitive girls jvs win by being aggressive

The girls J.V. squad had a pretty successful season due to the aggressiveness of the players and the patient coaching of Ms. Claire Arkelin. Time was a factor in the team's competitiveness. As the season went along with the girls developed their skills and jelled into a unit.

Each individual player is important whether on the bench or on the court. Players on the bench are needed to encourage the players on the floor and need to be ready when called on by the coach. The girls were always ready and willing. Overall, the team played well together and there are many good prospects for the varsity squad next year.

Coach MacNeil helps out his squad in perfecting their techniques.

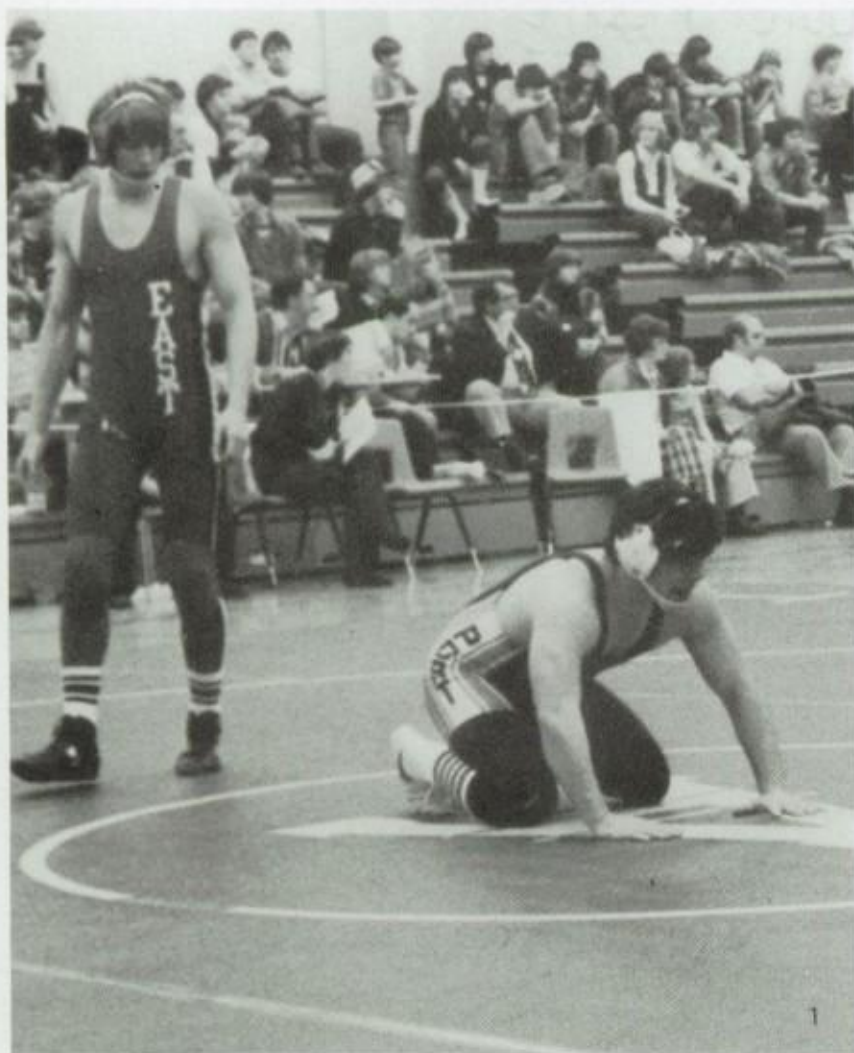

The key factor of becoming a good wrestler is getting the experience necessary to out maneuver and out think your opponent. Individual matches are the best ways to get the experience. The boys J.V. wrestlers were developing their techniques during the season and also were overcoming their inexperience.

Improvement was made throughout their schedule. Mostly due to hard work and good coaching, individual wrestlers were reaching near potential. The squad consisted of mostly sophomores and the future looks bright "Any of the jayvee wrestlers has the ability to step into the varsity squad," said Coach John Benson.

The boys varsity wrestlers had a pretty good team this year. With the squad made up of mostly seniors, the Red Devils had much experience.

The team was coming off a good year that was hard to match. Coach MacNeil said, "We lost a lot of our point makers through graduation." The individual wrestlers had to work hard to make the team a success.

Not as many seniors tried out this season as in the past. However, the sophomores turned out in big numbers to even out things. With the combination of seniors, juniors, and sophomores, East had depth in the squad.

The team had a good season overall. It was a learning experience for all wrestlers that helped improve each person. The Devils had a lot of experience in the lighter weight classes but by the end of the year, these wrestlers learned what winning felt like.

The Girls Gymnastics team had a successful campaign. Hard work, dedication, and experience in the returning gymnasts paid off in the standings and in the individual scores. There was strength in all areas.

Coach June Asselin provided much needed encouragement and advice to add to the success of the team. The girls had the talent and desire that made them winners. With each graceful move and each difficult floor exercise, the girls had to be, and were specialized at what they did.

The team had a good season and the girls worked well together. Spirit as well as support for each individual gymnast were displayed by the girls. It was as if the spectator was watching a professional group performing.

in memory of

Robert Waslowski, 17 died Thursday, January 12, in a local hospital after a long illness. Robert was especially active with sports. He played on the Junior Varsity basketball team in his sophomore year here at East.

Mr. Christopher L. Swoboda, 57, died Tuesday, December 6, at his home on Beaupre Avenue. Mr. Swoboda taught German here at East for the past eight years and was also the faculty advisor for the German Club. Mr. Swoboda, who was born in Neuhain, Germany, came with his family to Green Bay in 1959 from East Germany.

Mr. Christopher Swoboda

activities hold interests

1. Janet Dale happily cheers for the Red Devils. 2. Key Club members work on various money making projects. 3. Mr. McNeil relaxes between classes. 4. Mary Larsheid and Tina Smeester develop a good friendship through their many classes.

downtown green bay*

In the late 1950's it was only a dream. Six years ago it appeared the dream was irreparable shattered. Now, with about 22 years of planning and debating visions of the future showed promise one day and despair the next. Port Plaza became a reality. Port Plaza gleams as a retail center for a good third of the state. It has replaced aged buildings, run down stores, greasy-spoon eat shops, skidrow taverns, and vacant hulks of Green Bay's past.

Port Plaza is a living, viable reality of concrete and steel, of garden walkways with skylights and finely sculptured kiosks and columns, terrazzo and granite, small shops and large.

1. Joanna Revelo shows Jean Brunette what happiness is. 2. David Tappa whispers the next tune to the masked trumpeter. 3. The Red Devil appears for the homecoming parade. 4. John Devroy stands prepared for the next play. Opposite page-1. Family development allows for many discussions. 2. Red Devil Fans portray spirit, downtown. 3. Jane Queoff takes a short rest between cheers. 4. Cindy McCallum cheerfully strangles Jean Brunette. 5. Students make many friends throughout the year as shown by Nancy Noble and Terry Schaunessy. 6. "Sit back and relax." comments Mike Ward.

1. Mark Charles puts in another program for information on the WOIS computer. 2. Steve Bostedt searches for information through the card catalog. 3. Shannon Mulrine and Dave Demro discuss plans for after school activities. 4. Bruce Mauritz helps with many AV jobs. 5. John Vandersteen works on building his body with the weight machine. Opposite page-1. Students take a last look at the school before entering the bus. 2. Mr. Skramstad explains the proper use of the Chemistry lab. 3. Mrs. Doyle works with one of her students. 4. Steve Derse gives his presentation to the class. 5. Laurie Gajafsky practices for the next band concert.

Donald,
your really great. I'm glad I got to know you this year.
I had a great time talking to you at the Library. I hope that ~~best~~ things go good at N.W.T.I. Have a great summer and come and visit me at the Library.

exploring thoughts

Donald,
 it was great knowing you with a great fun. Have a great summer hope your future is great also.
 Kathy Burke

Donald,

for when the last school could not be biggest responsibility and administration. Don't have to settle down living with all the
 a small boy who must be for in your

Donald,
 I just don't know about you!
 You're a nut!
 But sure are fun to be around. And don't worry don't mad
 at you. Take care
 + Be good!

Jodie
 Strachan

Hey Donald
 you are really a super kid.
 you were really a great in football, what would we have done without you. We'll have to get together this summer and have some good times. I hope we can stay in touch. Good luck for life and beyond.
 Take care of yourself.

Don,

After all this time we've finally pulled through. Can you believe it? We sure do deserve this diploma don't we. We worked long & hard to get it. Just think, we can go out & party after 3 more days & not have to worry about ~~going~~ going to school in the morning. Heh-hah!?!?

Well, I'm glad I met up. You're a great guy. Probably see you at BB's this summer.

Love,
Jared

Don,

We finally made it more day to go. I'm glad I got to see you, your a need. See ya this summer. Have fun!

Don,

Want God we made it! You know I remember you all the way from Howe school! Have a great summer, best of luck in the future, & watch that partying!

Don,

You little radical. You better quit going out at night or other wise you will turn into an alcoholic. Take it easy and good luck in the future you. Have a great summer and have fun partying.

Mary Basche

Tom, Great to get to know such a partying guy. I've run out of time so Good Luck in the future

David

Don, Foods was in funnest class you were great! and a good cook! See ya this summer. Love, Bucky
